To whom it may concern:

The City of Fort Saskatchewan contracted with Roy Prevost, to conduct his Doing Business In A Big Box World seminar, in our community on February 19, 2003. The seminar was successful, attracting over 40 participants. The message that Roy brought to our business community was simple, straight forward and very powerful. The feedback we received from those attending was positive; they all felt it was very worthwhile attending.

Roy was very accommodating to our needs, and a pleasure to work with. He came highly recommended to us, and that recommendation was and is very well deserved.

Yours truly,
