Dear Sir or Madam:

One month ago, our business organization was treated to a wonderful opportunity: a workshop on Big Box Retail with Roy Prevost.

The content of the workshop was very timely and useful. There was plenty of information on how the small retailer can survive with the big box stores in town. The workshop was fast-paced, well-researched and well-presented.

Roy Prevost is a skilled presenter. His delivery is strong and he develops a good level of response from the participants. Prevost is professional and considerate with participants and organizers alike.

This workshop was well-received in our community and we look forward to future sessions. We received many comments from participants who wished that they had brought their entire staff (– an excellent idea!). Our participants left invigorated, inspired and enthusiastic about their business and their role in the community.

We appreciated the opportunity to work with Roy Prevost.

Yours truly,
