To Whom It May Concern:

After recently participating in Roy Prevost's seminar entitled "Prospering in A Big Box Retail World" I can, with confidence, highly recommend it!

As education director for our chamber of commerce, I was very pleased that we were able to attract over eighty participants to attend Mr. Prevost's workshop. The feedback I received from our members was all positive. Mr. Prevost presented the seminar in a manner that was interesting, informative and entertaining.

The material was very useful for everyday, practical application and left our participants with a perspective (that I am quite sure) will allow each and every one of them to, not only survive, but more importantly prosper in this big box retail world!

Sincerely,

Troy A. Jodrie
